Vintage Paris in Hollister, Missouri will host an Art Auction of pieces from local artists and art from Discovery Arts' Children on March 19, 2011

Springfield, MO – March 14, 2011 -- Vintage Paris Coffee and Wine Café in Hollister, Missouri will host an Art Auction of pieces from local artists' and art from Discovery Arts' patients on March 19, 2011 beginning at 4PM. "We will have art from local artists as well as art from our Discovery Arts kids. There will be live music and slideshows and videos of Discovery Arts' Art Adventure programs from St John's Children's Hospital", said Discovery Arts Program Coordinator Katie Cline.

Founded by entertainment industry professionals, Discovery Arts, is a 501(c)(3) non profit organization that brings music, art, dance and drama to children who are in the hospital receiving treatment for cancer, serious blood disorders and life threatening illness and currently serves over 3,500 children and their families each year, including St. John's Hospital in Springfield, MO.

"Art Adventure" programs by Discovery Arts are new to the area and are being facilitated by Katie Cline, a local resident and cast member of Peter Pan. About Discovery Arts:

Discovery Arts was created in 1993 by a dedicated group of entertainment industry professionals who began volunteering their time and talents to bring music, dance, art and drama to children with cancer, serious blood disorders and life threatening illness while they are in the hospital receiving treatment.

In recognition of the powerful impact of the arts on these children, Discovery Arts was formally incorporated as a 501(c)(3) non-profit agency in 1998 with a mission to expand the delivery of "Arts Adventures" to many more children in many more hospitals. All of Discovery Arts programs and services are offered free of charge to the hospitals, patients and their families.
